Planners Set New Race Track Road Regulations

Desert Turf Club officials yesterday notified that they must create a new road to form an arterial link between their Del Sol Road race track and Avenue 40.

The County Planning Commission yesterday requested the track operators to connect their track parking area with Avenue 40 to "expedite the movement of traffic."

County planners also asked the Turf Club to pave Rancho Del Sol the northern perimeter of the track. The commission also discussed the future possibility of cutting a roadway through from Avenue 40 to Highway 99.

Commissioners noted that existing requirements call for the Turf Club to pave Rancho Del Sol 50 feet from the center line. The Avenue 40 link and the Avenue 38 paving projects are additions to the existing requirements.

Four Republicans To Enter Senator Race in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — A three and possibly a four-way race among Republicans seeking to fill the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Senate seat in a special election appeared certain today.

Former Gov. Walter Kohler and Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles formally announced their candidacies Tuesday, and former Rep. Glenn Davis threw his hat in the ring today.

A fourth possible GOP contender was Rep. Alvin O'Konski (R-Wis.) who has said he is seriously considering entering the race.

However, there was still some question over whether Gov. Vernon Thomson would call the special election to fill McCarthy's unexpired term.

Nathanson to Ask Hearing on Sale

Councilman Jerry Nathanson said today that he would not approve of representatives of the Bureau of Indian Affairs airing the controversy over the land sale at a luncheon meeting of the council next Monday, but would ask that the entire matter be discussed at the regular session of the Council a week from tonight.

In a release to this newspaper yesterday, the Bureau of Indian Affairs answered Nathanson's charges that the bureau "was perpetrating a fraud" in a current land sale, and said that "with 83 properties in seven California counties being offered for sale, this is the only protest that has been voiced."

NATHANSON SAID that someone should voice a protest, and he believes that the Bureau should set forth all facts about the land that is up for bid, as well as explain that certain land in the Agua Caliente Tribal Reservation, is not available with a clear title.

Tornadoes, Heavy Rains Lash Nation--Colorado to N.Y.

By UNITED PRESS

Damaging wind storms dotted with tornadoes and heavy rains lashed widespread sections of the nation Tuesday night and today from Colorado to New York.

Eight to 10 twisters dipped from dark clouds near Grand Rapids, Mich., Tuesday night, but disappeared without hitting the city.

An earlier tornado smashed a farm building near Blooming Prairie, Minn.

THREE PERSONS were injured when tornadic winds collapsed a barn roof at Wooster, Ohio, Tuesday. A lightning bolt wrecked the chimney of the Berlin, Wis., high school, showering bricks on 100 students in a study hall. No one was injured.

A United Press count since Monday showed at least 14 persons killed as a result of storms, six of them in flood-soaked Texas.

THE LATEST victim was James L. Stinger, 32, who was killed Tuesday night when a lightning bolt exploded a cache of dynamite 500 feet underground near Fresno, Calif. Authorities said Stinger was loading a dynamite charge into drill holes in a tunnel at the Black Rock Dam project when the lightning hit and followed a cable underground.

Opposition Ends Nursery Plans In Tamarisk Area

Heavy residential opposition yesterday ended Harold Mounsey's plans for a nursery in an R-1 zone of the Tamarisk Country Club area.

Greeted with disfavor by a large number of Tamarisk area residents, Mounsey's application for a zoning variance was turned down by the County Planning Commission following the public hearing.

Mounsey had applied for a variance permitting establishment of a nursery on the north side of Cypress Lane, near Los Alamos Road.

In other hearing action, the Commission approved R. P. Hollister's request for an addition to an existing trailer park in Tramview Village. The plan calls for 37 extra spaces now and 100 new trailer spaces in the near future.

The Commission also approved application for a 35-space trailer park in the Whitewater trout pond and park area, five miles north of Highway 99. Applicant was the Whitewater Trout Company.

Kraft Assumes Captain's Rank In Police Reserve

At the regular meeting of the Palm Springs Police Reserve last night, Lt. Lou Kraft officially took over as captain, replacing Merle Helm, who resigned late last month.

Sgt. Julie Edlestein was promoted to the rank of lieutenant, replacing Kraft, and in an election Lester Hurst was made the new sergeant, replacing Edlestein.

Officers of the organization rotate through each rank and back to patrolman.

Last night the unit was shown training films, and within a week a program will be started in a firearms training class. Police Lt. Dale Thompson will teach the class.

Red Premier Asks Meeting Of Leaders

Warns West Of Balancing On Brink of War

MOSCOW, URSS — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin warned the West today against "balancing on the brink" of war in the Middle East. He hinted the time is now ripe for a new personal meeting between leaders of East and West.

The Soviet leader, speaking to a Kremlin mass meeting, declared the Soviet Union has "no special interest" in the Middle East other than seeing that peace and the independence of Arab nations are guaranteed.

BUT HE WARNED that the West must choose between the peace and the "way of war."

Bulgarian said that international tension has relaxed somewhat recently, making the time more propitious for new East-West negotiations on international problems. He said he favored personal contacts with foreign leaders to discuss questions of peace.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the records indicated that money Beck has said was borrowed from the union and "was stolen rather than borrowed" by Union President Dave Beck.

Then Beck sold it to the teamsters for $30,000.

THE COMMITTEE dug deeply into Beck's relations with the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of Los Angeles which handled many millions of dollars worth of insurance for the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

The western Big Three, Bulgarian said, rejected Russian proposals to renounce use of force in the Middle East and now "persist in their attempt to settle these issues by force—the United States in particular."

BULGANIN ATTACKED the Eisenhower doctrine and charged it "is now the main source of anxiety and instability" in the Middle East.

"The concentration of the U. S. 6th Fleet in that area and that blunt statement by U. S. leaders about the readiness to interfere in the domestic affairs of Jordan laid bare the essence of the Dulles-Eisenhower doctrine," Bulgarian said.

NEWELL SAID his firm received $2,109,338.43 in gross commissions for placing Teamsters insurance business in a four-year period ended in February, this year.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) drew from Newell that his commissions were "tremendous" and that at least "50 other brokers" would have done the work for less. Kennedy said Newell's profits were 20 times what they should have been.

MEANWHILE, FIVE Teamsters vice presidents conferred more than an hour with AFL-CIO President George Meany on the Union's difficulties. The AFL-CIO suspended Beck as a vice president of the federation. No one would say after today's meeting whether the conferees raised the question of ousting Beck also as Teamsters president.

Permits may be obtained from either of the two city fire stations and must be renewed every two weeks. There is no charge for the permits.

Burning hours are from 8 a.m. until noon, daily, outside the downtown area. No burning will be allowed in the immediate area on both sides of Palm Canyon Drive and the west side of Indian Avenue, from Alejo Road to Baristo.

Rev. Jack Morrow, pastor of the Four Square Gospel Church, reported to police today the theft of 250 concrete building blocks, taken from the site of the new church at 630 Vella Road.

RETIRING PRESIDENT Adrian Rosen, right, was presented with a gift of appreciation by newly installed president George Beebe, Jr., at the Retail Merchants Association "Press Appreciation" dinner last night in the Chi Chi Starlite Room. Tribute was paid to members of the press and radio present, with a special feature being a moment of silence in respect to Newsman Bill Rashall, who died at his desk at The Desert Sun last week. A Severe Loss

(An Editorial)

The Desert Sun this week suffered a severe loss. Bill Rashall, columnist, promotion manager and an untiring worker for the good of Palm Springs and The Sun, has gone.

The management and the staff of The Sun keenly feel his absence. His passing was a deep shock but we are grateful that we had the opportunity of knowing him and of working with him for these past several years and wish to express here this appreciation of his devotion to Palm Springs and to The Desert Sun, a devotion which helped make this a better community and a better newspaper.

God bless you, Bill, and your wife and daughter.

Ike Repeats Trouble Talk To Newsmen

House Committee Slashes $2.5 Billion In Defense Funds

WASHINGTON, URSS — A House Appropriations Subcommittee stirred up another hot budget-cutting argument today by chopping $2,500,000,000 from President Eisenhower's defense budget.

The President told his news conference earlier the cut could not be justified and warned that if Congress starts trifling with defense funds "we are going to be in trouble somewhere along the line."

SENATE MAJORITY Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas replied that Congress is just trimming the "fat" out of the military budget and won't touch any of its "muscle."

"I don't think you need to be concerned that we will cripple defense," he told a reporter.

Eisenhower's GOP leader in the Senate, William F. Knowland of California, said the President "ably outlined" the magnitude of the budget problem but predicted that Congress nevertheless will cut it by at least three billion dollars.

THE PRESIDENT'S warning, voiced at his weekly news conference, followed up his nationwide radio and television appeal to the American people Tuesday night to sacrifice dollars rather than their sons and cities as the "price for peace" in a world threatened by atomic-armed Communism.

Eisenhower told reporters that he acknowledges honest differences of opinion between the executive and legislative branches of government. But he said that if Congress trifles with the defense budget, this country will be in serious trouble.

OTHER NEWS conference highlights:

The President said he believes one of the reasons Russia apparently is considering disarmament more seriously than in the past is that it is beginning to feel the pinch of supporting a heavy armaments budget.

He said unification of the armed services has not taken place in quite the form he expected. He added that this was one of the basic problems involved in writing a minimum federal budget.

He asserted that use of force by Israel to send a ship through the Suez Canal would be reprehensible.

OLD WEST RETURNS, RIDERS CITED FOR PARKING HORSES

Police Officer F. A. Stevenson late yesterday afternoon cited the riders of two horses which were found unattended, tied to a parking meter in front of the Frances Stevens School.

Stevenson cited P. S. Jackson and George Dinsmore, both staying locally at El Mirador Hotel, for "parking horses on the sidewalk" a violation of the Palm Springs Ordinance Code.

The two horses, rented from the Ranch Club Stables, stood on the sidewalk, eating grass from around the palm trees.

IKE AND MONTY AT GETTYSBURG

Though soldiers still may retire by law in their middle forties, after serving their twenty years of active duty, and many do to start other careers in the prime of life, two old soldiers spent this last weekend overlooking one of the world's most noted battlefields discussing the decisive battle of today, the cold war and how to win it.

Field Marshal the Viscount Montgomery, who will be 70 this fall, and General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, to give him the military title he wore with distinction when Montgomery was his deputy, who is in his 67th year, are both still actively engaged in the aftermath of the war they thought they had won when Hitler's Germany surrendered. Their long weekend visit at Gettysburg sought the answer to the cold war that their former comrades, the Russians, began even before their armies entered Berlin.

Montgomery is convinced the Russians do not want a world war. He bases this conclusion on the fact that the low birthrate during the last World War deprived them of the necessary manpower and, even more, on the strong belief that a new world war would be the signal for all the satellite peoples to rise and Russia would be fighting on both sides of the Iron Curtain. To insure against the catastrophe of a world war, he wants to see a NATO propaganda council set up in Washington, to coordinate the allied psychological warfare and to strike back immediately before the Soviet lies can take hold. Montgomery's ideas are war-tested. They would be much cheaper, and surer, than a "hot" war.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Alger Hiss Tells His Story

WASHINGTON, D.C.—It could be that Alger Hiss left the best part of himself in Lewisburg Penitentiary, or it could be that he had nothing but the soul of a bureaucrat when he went in there. I never knew him well enough to form any opinion on the subject. But I know dozens of his friends in Baltimore, many of whom were waiting eagerly for his new book, "In the Court of Public Opinion."

They have gone on believing, up till now at least, that Alger was railroaded to prison, the victim of "hysteria," and that in due time he would establish his innocence and make the rest of us ashamed. Others, less concerned with his innocence (after all, they say "everybody" was a Communist in "those days") looked for the day when he would break the long silence with something so tragically beautiful, or so nobly set forth, that the masterpiece would obliterate the petty, bourgeois crime of which his small contemporaries in the mob spirit convicted him.

BOTH THESE GROUPS of Hiss backers, I think, will be disappointed with Alger's performance in this pedantic, spiritless book. For those who believe in his innocence, he has given nothing new. What he offers here is a rehash of the overfamiliar stories of his hearings, trials and appeals.

To these faithful followers he gives very little except the tiresome contention that the politicians, the newspapers, the Congress, the courts and, finally, history itself—by staging the Korean War—had conspired to do him dirt. Even this tired complaint, if it were set forth in a purity of spirit or in a majestic transport of rage and denunciation, might lift both book and author from the rut of mediocrity. But these saving graces are not there.

FOR MYSELF, I have more association—and, hence, share some disappointment—with the other group, those who have hitherto regarded Alger Hiss as a Nietzschean personality—"beyond good and evil"—perhaps something like Aaron Burr. It is conceivable that a man may commit a crime like perjury, or even like constructive treason, and never feel a twinge of guilt.

It is conceivable—and is part of our religious literature—that a man touched with divinity can be a traitor to Caesar while faithfully serving God and humanity. But in either case—the satanic or the godly man—he simply cannot contemplate his deeds for half a dozen years and produce over 400 pages of autobiography without making a revelation of his prodigious capacity in one direction or the other.

THE FAILURE of this book, I think, lies in its banality. It may be that Alger's experiences since August 5, 1948, when he was formally accused by Whitaker Chambers of being a Communist of being a brainwash. He may have lost his personality at Lewisburg, but I don't believe it.

Stone walls do not a prison make. Some of the finest poems, books and epistles of our language were the known result of incarceration. The works of O. Henry, the Broadway Hollywood hit "Stalag 17," the immortal "A Pilgrim's Progress," were all the works of prisoners, and the list is interminable.

I had been hoping that Hiss would turn up something like Oscar Wilde's "The Ballad of Read-exactly what Uncle Sam is doing with your tax dollars in ever increasing totals . . . assuring you of some kind of protection against a foe he hopes will never strike but who must be met if he does and who probably will be stalled off . . . now that the atom is an item in warfare . . . by our performance in the armament race and by little else but.

It's like paying appeasement money to the God of Fear . . . it keeps you broke but you sleep easier nights.

It's screwy but this is the brand of civilization we are living under and evidently the only kind of economy of which we are capable.

STATES RECOGNIZE DANGER

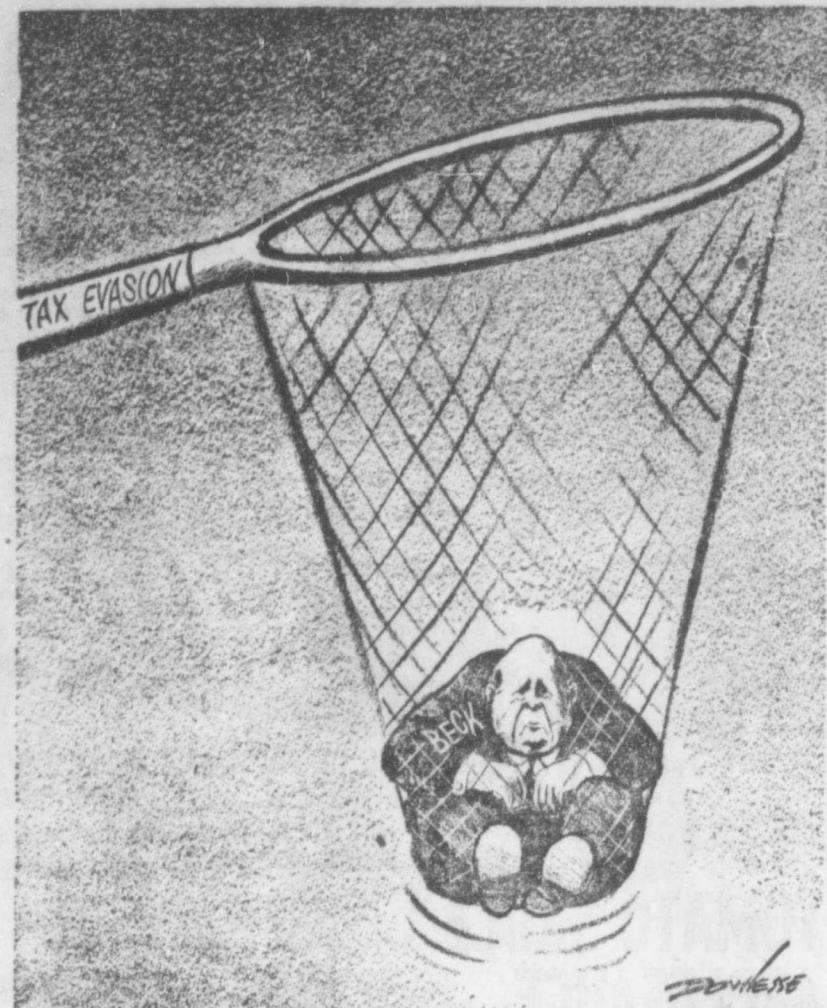

(Summit, Miss., Sun)

Good news! An AP story from Austin, Texas, under date of March 13, states that "State Sen. Parkhouse of Dallas has introduced a resolution calling for an amendment to the United States Constitution to prohibit the government from engaging in private business."

That's the Proposed 23rd Amendment sponsored by the American Progress Foundation and introduced in Congress by Rep. Ralph W. Gwin of New York.

Illinois has already endorsed the amendment and it would be wonderful indeed if Texas is next!

Uncle Sam's Best Net

INEZ ROBB:

Some People Never Know

Some people never know when they've hit the jackpot. Or when they're sitting in a tub of soda.

These cut-rate reflections are occasioned by newspaper stories recounting the distress suffered by a purse-proud family on the marriage of their son and her to the family cook.

If ever I have heard cause for rejoicing and congratulations all down the line, it is this splendid union. Who, in this servile age, would not pass up a marriage made in Heaven if only he could achieve that far rarer phenomenon, one made in the kitchen?

Some people can take them or leave them alone and it is in their belief that it is best to leave them alone.

Before proceeding, here's an errant thought: Why do people designate June as "the month of the month of brides"? What's the matter with the bridegroom?

WITH JUNE, the month of brides, just around the corner, a learned professor this week voiced a new conceit on honeymoons.

Some people can take them or leave them alone and it is in their belief that it is best to leave them alone.

Before proceeding, here's an errant thought: Why do people designate June as "the month of the month of brides"? What's the matter with the bridegroom?

SO IT GOES throughout most of the book, but surely—some will ask—Hiss must rise to some sort of height at the end. Alas, he does not. Instead, he ends on the sort of note which leaves the final impression that, bitter and grueling as this ordeal certainly was, it happened to a man too small to suffer great tragedy.

"I feel deep satisfaction," he writes at the last, "that I took part in the creative efforts of the New Deal and the formation of the United Nations. The democratic ideals which motivated me in government service continue to shape my outlook on life."

I would not wish to be unfair or unkind to Alger Hiss, who has been pummeled enough by this time, but do these closing lines show only the shallow soul of a bureaucratic do-gooder—or am I wrong?

THE FAILURE of this book, I think, lies in its banality. It may be that Alger's experiences since August 5, 1948, when he was formally accused by Whitaker Chambers of being a Communist of being a brainwash. He may have lost his personality at Lewisburg, but I don't believe it.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"There's no excuse for such a mistake, Mr. Truffle! . . . When you had no trouble paying your tax you should have immediately suspected an error in your tax figures! . . ."

EARL WILSON:

Ed Gardner Makes Comeback

Where's he workin'?"

The Ambassador Hotel in L.A. promoted a room service waiter to captain in the Cocoanut Grove. He was asked how he liked the new job. "It's awfully interesting," he said, "seeing how people look after they've finished dressing."

Taffy Tuttle told maestro Hank Sylvern she's unhappy—friends are giving her a going-away party but she doesn't want to go.

"Cabdrivers quote these single jokes back to me—but when I did 50 on TV, they didn't," says Ed. "Funny thing," he added, "at my agency I'm supposed to be a nice, retired old guy writin' copy . . . not an actor."

Ed writes and delivers the commercial for an auto sponsor—about "the tree surgeon who has a bad back—he fell out of one of his patients"—or "the restaurant that cut down the size of the paper plates to make the hamburgers look bigger."

"Things are going so well," Ed concluded as he was setting out for Hollywood to relax playing golf all summer. "I may have to go back to Puerto Rico to save some dough on taxes."

AN X-RAY TECHNICIAN was out with a blonde in Florida when Henry Watkins, quite a wit, said, "I wonder what he sees in her?"

Johnnie Ray had a contract to go into the Latin Quarter, but Boss Man Lou Walters is bitterly anti-TV, so Johnnie switched to the Waldorf. His opening there was one of the most sensational yet. Johnnie himself was scared of the Waldorf name: "That last few steps was like going to the electric chair." His gal, Jane Rooney, was there with Mickey Rooney.

Orson Welles and Toots Shor were celebrating their birthdays—Welles' 42nd, Shor's 54th. "We HAVE to remember them," explained Welles. "Nobody else does."

Celeste Holm drew a dressy crowd to her hit opening at the Pierre where I heard about a drunk who was in a phone booth impatiently jiggling the hook. He was heard mumbling, "Number, hell! I want my peanuts!"

MOREY AMSTERDAM's going back on TV from Hollywood KTLA and also is being featured in a movie "The Carving Set." He was telling a Lincoln anecdote in Lindy's when a Lindy hanger-on who'd only heard the punch line but in said, "He sounds like a funny guy."

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Mickey Not Sharecropper Type

HOLLYWOOD—Budd Schulberg nixed Mickey Rooney for a role in "God's Little Acre." Claimed The Mick isn't a sharecropper type. . . . Elvis Presley & Co. were barred from visiting the set of "Until They Sail" because there were too many of them.

"Starlet Diane Foster, a Canadian, got her final U.S. citizenship papers. So now they're calling the photogenic one The Kinetic Yankee.

TV TOPICS—Tennessee Ernie Ford, who for a long time has been suffering from the strain of doing a nighttime AND a daytime show, finally outtalked NBC-TV and wot' have to drag through his daytime chores next season. "Bride and Groom" dropped off the network three years ago, will climb back on the telebean in Ernie's spot.

Got any scripts? Lux Video is looking for some summer originals. Don't send them to me—send them to Lux. . . . If anyone can make M-G-M's new teleseries, "The Thin Man," sparkle and crackle the way Myrna Loy and William Powell did in the movies some 20 years ago, Phyllis Kirk and Peter Lawford should turn the trick. If they can, Phyll and Pete will be sitting on top of the TV heap this time next year.

NBC-TV has been taking it on the chin from Ernie Kovacs as well as from Tennessee Ernie. This particular Ernie, negotiating a producer-director-writer deal with the network has informed the brass that if they won't let him do what he wants to do next season, then he doesn't want to do anything at all for them! Furthermore, says the comic, he WON'T do a summer replacement show, as expected of him—and FURTHERMORE, how about a hefty hike in salary?

ARTHUR GODFREY's resolve never to originate any of his CBS-TV shows in Hollywood is weakening just a little—at least to the point where he'll be working only a few miles away from the Hollywoods. Arthur will appear with his precision drill horse in San Diego at The California Story pageant July 24-Aug. 10—and will emanate his daily network shows from towns in that vicinity.

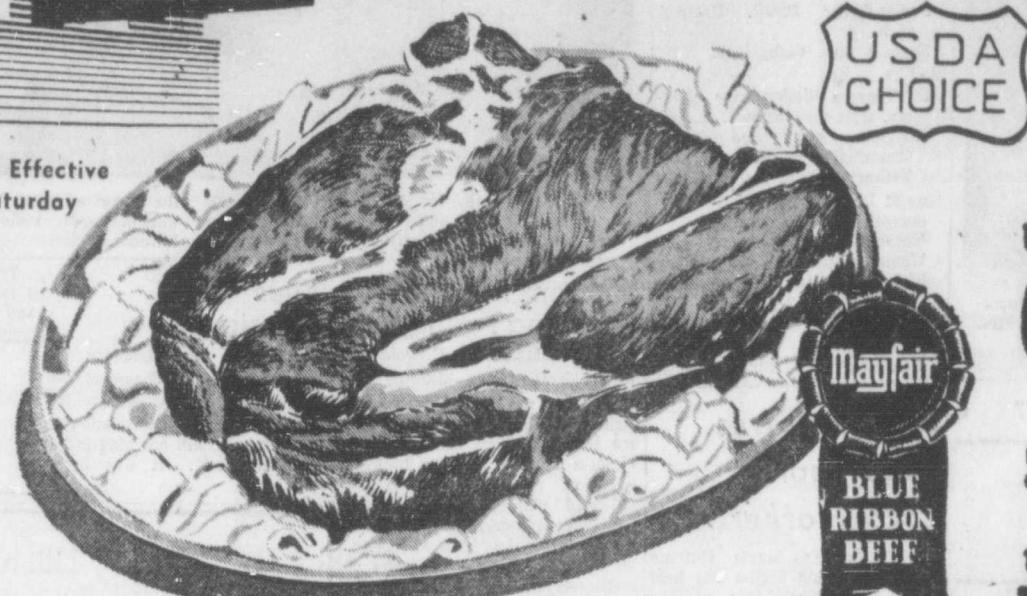

What's happened to all those teleproducers who said they were going to make this Be-Kind-to-Indians Year? The Redskins, on every TV western we've seen, are still biting the dust.

TV actor Bob Kenaston took Billie Dove to the Oldtime Movies Theatre on Fairfax Avenue in Hollywood to see one of Billie's old movies, Zane Grey's "Red Rock Mesa." I asked him how he liked his mother in it. Bob yawned. "I f--- zeeeen."

Plan to Attend Flower Ball In Los Angeles

Mrs. F. A. Lovett and Mrs. Harry Clatworthy will go to Los Angeles on Saturday to attend the 11th annual Flower Guild Ball which will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton.

The theme for the Ball is "Floral Fantasy" and decorations will feature a bower of flowers in peach and lime tones, with accents of yellow and gold. Inside the ballroom three-tiered topiary trees antiqued gold columns and urns holding flowers styled after old French paintings will create a lush garden scene. Ornate bird cages suspended from the ceiling will hold more flowers, and candelabra will light the table decorations of peach-colored stock, Bells of Ireland and yellow roses.

Mrs. Lovett, who is a Guild member, will donate a three-day stay in Palm Springs for a week's stay . . . and the family

The great golden spotlight of the sun . . . seeks out Palm Springs . . . against its dramatic backdrop of mountains . . . Mid-week in mid May finds life casual and happy-go-lucky . . . with our biggest decision . . . whether to go out to dinner and a show . . . and what to wear to Shadow Mountain Club's annual luau on Saturday night . . .

Jeri Hull called long distance to say that she and Tom reconciled their differences . . . and spent Mother's Day together at their Northridge ranch . . . The Hollis have been married for 16 years . . . and their friends are delighted to have them back together again . . . Jeri said they will probably be down for a Palm Springs visit before long . . . They will occupy the Marion Hicks home . . . as the Hicks left Saturday for six weeks in Europe . . .

Jean Reinhardt, who was at the Racquet Club's closing party Sunday night with Ken Colborn . . . tells me that M. L. Brittain, Bob Morsithey, Merritt Van Sant and Grafton Tanquary will hold their annual Smoke Tree party on the weekend of May 25-26 . . . with overflow billeting at the Tennis Club . . . This means another gay influx of Angelenos . . .

SPORTS PARADE TODAY'S
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lou Nova lost a rematch with Shakespeare today but claimed a decision over world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"In my day," quoth the bard of boff, "Patterson would have been a good sparring partner. Believe me, it's tougher on the boards than it ever was on the canvas."

This is primarily because Nova these days works up a sweat as a free-style elocutionist.

LAST WINTER, before the popular pugilistic multitude, he hammed his debut as Carnegie Recital Hall before a packed house of some 66 people. Muskay Jackson, one of the cauliflower critics on hand, counted the house that night and announced defiantly that "even Nova couldn't have kept the crowd that small at Madison Square Garden."

True or false, Tuesday the California kid outdid himself in a poetic comeback—or repeat performance—at Carnegie Hall.

There were 33 people present.

But you have to admit one thing. As usual, he knocked himself out. The piece de resistance was "The Highwayman," and Alfred Noyes would never have written it, believe me, if he had a suspicion that it was going to be "acted" out in a sparring session. The golden-haired, silver-bearded and brassy-voiced Nova jabbed the highwayman silly. He skipped a phantom rope over the moors and, truly touching, pulled an Arthur Donovan complete to the 10 count as the bandits bowed out.

"RAIN UNDOUBTEDLY kept most of the crowd away," said the man who proved his dramatic quality when he fought Joe Louis, although outside there wasn't enough dew to send an airmail letter. "Don't you think the selections were charming?"

If this loses you, be my guest. "My favorite," he added, "is Kipling's 'If'."

You have to go back at that point and think that "if" Nova hadn't been ruined by Two-Ton Gony Galento on a very bloody night in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, he might not have been reciting poetry today.

BREAKS JC SHOT MARK

GLENDORA (AP) — Homer Robertson of San Bernardino Valley College tossed the shot put 54 feet 3 inches Tuesday to set a national junior college record at the California Jaycee track and field preliminaries.

Boyd and Vaughn Tangle Tonight in Middle Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight

Bobby Boyd, trying to fight back into title contention, meets a major stumbling block in Willie Vaughn tonight in a 10-round bout before the television cameras. Vaughn, 25, was ranked only 10th among the 160-pounders by the National Boxing Assn., and he has an overall record of 32 wins, 13 losses and four draws, compared to Boyd's 42 victories and only seven defeats.

Both Vaughn's most important fight was a "no contest" with Joey Giardello.

Boyd boasted a nine-fight winning streak and was one of the top three ranked middleweights until last Sept. 28 when he met Giardello. The Philadelphian pounded him mercilessly and finally won by a knockout in the fifth round, breaking Boyd's jaw with the finishing punch.

While Boyd was out of the picture, Vaughn, a California state champion, took on Giardello at Kansas City March 27, and with crowding style, gave Giardello a rough evening. Two of the officials gave him the decision, but because the referee marked his card with an incorrect scoring system, the bout was declared no contest.

Tonight's winner possibly could climb into the top five among the middleweights since the sponsoring International Boxing Club indicated it would try to put him against either Spider Webb, third-ranked among the 160-pounders, or the winner of the Géne Fullmer-Tiger Jones bout scheduled here June 7.

PATTERSON TO DEFEND TITLE OUTSIDE OF IBC

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson was expected to announce today that his first defense of the heavyweight crown will be made this summer for an independent promoting group headed by Emil Lence of Brooklyn.

Young Patterson and Manager Gus d'Amato, who have broken away from the International Boxing Club, called a press conference at Leone's Restaurant for today's announcement.

Lence, former promoter of TV fights at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, obtained application forms for a new promoter's license at the New York State Athletic Commission offices on Monday.

Manager d'Amato was expected to warn top contenders Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, Eddie Machen and Willie Pastrano that whoever challenged for the title in June or July must do so in a fight staged by the new promoter. And that refusal to accept the promoter's terms would result in being by-passed for the title shot.

Lippe Breibart, pilot of top contender Jackson, said today, "The Hurricane is the biggest attraction in boxing, and he'll fight for the highest bidder—title shot or no title shot. If Jim Norris offers a bigger guarantee for an outdoor fight with Eddie Machen for this summer, we'll take Machen."

Since Norris and his IBC no longer have Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds under exclusive contract for fights, the Patterson defense might be made at one of those parks in late June or early July.

Tied for fourth were twosomes who posted cards of 64. They were Leo Owens and Paul Hodrick, Ray Kelley and Chase Garfield and Dr. C. H. Baldwin and R. H. Fleet.

There were no knockdowns although Vejar slipped to the canvas late in the third round after Giambra landed a left hook.

Cotero Opens Camp In San Jacinto Area

SAN JACINTO (AP) — California featherweight champion Jose Cotero has opened training at Owner's Camp for his May 28 bout against Pajarito Moreno at Gilmore Field in Hollywood.

The state champion arrived at the famed training camp Tuesday.

He scheduled road work and gym exercises for the remainder of the week.

State President To Install New JayCee Officers

Robert Ruff, newly elected president of the California State Junior Chamber of Commerce will be guest of honor at Palm Springs JayCee Installation dinner to be held Thursday night at the Ranch Club at p. m.

Robert Schlesinger, Palm Springs attorney, will be installed as the new president of the local JayCees, replacing Bill Bronstein.

Other officers who will be installed by the state president are: first vice president, Frank Allen; second vice president, Dick LeLong; secretary, Robert Morrison, and treasurer, J. R. Wahlberg.

State President Ruff was elected last weekend at the State Junior Chamber of Commerce convention at Santa Catalina, in one of the most active campaigns in JayCee history.

From Covina, Ruff is 32, married, and has two children. He is chief chemist for the Pilot Chemical Company, a part charter president of the Covina Junior Chamber and immediate past vice president of the district.

Navy Fliers Killed In Carrier Crash

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Three Navy airmen were listed as missing and presumed dead today in the crash at sea of a jet attack bomber during a landing attempt on the carrier USS Bon Homme Richard.

Navy officials said the AD3 Skywarrior broke into a million parts Tuesday as it slammed into the carrier and fell into the sea. Navy personnel on the flight deck escaped injury.

The mishap occurred in training maneuvers off the Southern California coast. The plane's crew was on a carrier qualification flight and had made two successful landings prior to making the low approach and hitting the carrier.

The victims were identified as Cmdr. Thomas A. Bolton, 36, Coronado, the pilot; Lt. (jg) Ralph L. Gordon, 31, Imperial Beach, navigator; and Machinist Mate Joseph G. Haskins, 35, Chula Vista, plane captain. The men, all married, were assigned to the San Diego Air Station.

The U. S. armed forces expect their peacetime requirements for jet fuel to exceed 14 million gallons daily by 1965.

WANT A FRIEND who'll never let you down? You'll find plenty of pals like these three friendly mutts at the Palm Springs animal shelter on Ramon Road. The homeless pups were left to their own fate by citizens too busy to care for them, or others callous enough to abandon them when leaving the city. All medically checked through the shelter, the perky animals make excellent children's pets. They'll all be destroyed unless they're claimed. Animal Shelter hours are 8 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 5 p.m. (Desert Sun Photo).

GATE CITY, Va. (UPI) — Hundreds of well-wishers will travel up to the mountain home of Civil War veteran John Salling near here today to congratulate him on his 11th birthday and present him with a 111-pound cake.

It will be the biggest birthday celebration the old warrior has ever had, according to those who are planning it. A motorcade of more than 100 automobiles will leave Gate City to go to the ceremony, hear a rendition of "Dixie" and listen to speeches.

"GENERAL" SALLING, one of three surviving Civil War veterans in the nation, will also receive a requested summer-weight Confederate uniform made specially for him since Confederate soldiers were not issued summer uniforms.

Bags of congratulatory messages, sent from throughout the United States, were also to be taken to him, including one from the White House and another from Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, a spokesman for the celebration said.

SALLING, BORN May 15, 1846 only a few hundred yards from his present home, has lived his full life within Scott County here in the mountains of southwest Virginia.

Serving in the Civil War as a teen-age boy, he never got more than 30 miles from his home and never saw a battle. He spent the war digging salt peter out of caves near here for Confederate gunpowder as a private in the Army of Virginia.

"I'm tired of people running over me," he explained.
